

TESTIMONIAL – JCU Center for Career Services, Spring 2016

My name is Nicholas Gambino, I graduated from John Cabot University in May 2015 majoring in International Affairs and minoring in Communications. During my studies, I was unsure of what direction I wanted to go in regards to career trajectory. What I did know, was that I had many passions spanning from politics, business, and cinema, and that I would want to be involved in something at the international scale. Midway through my educational career at John Cabot, I discovered the Career Services Centre and was amazed at all of the incredible opportunities that they provided. Upon expressing my interest in some of these opportunities, they immediately assisted me in creating an effective CV and multiple cover letters, before expediting my application process by contacting the various employers directly.

Career Services has assisted me in applying to every one of my employment positions here in Rome, from an intern at the start up media production studio Marden Entertainment, to a consultant at the firm Vision and Value, and most recently to a full-time position working in commercial marketing and sales with Europcar Italia. Europcar Italia provides mobility solutions to individuals as well as large organizations. Their business model combines traditional rent-a-car services, commercial transportation contracting, and car sharing services like Car-2-Go, to address the issues of urban mobility through the private sector. They are a large international corporation with the opportunities for upward mobility around the globe.

Not only has Career Services assisted me in applying to these opportunities, they have guided me along the process of exploring my interests during my studies, providing me with relevant out-of-classroom experience that helped me to realize how to achieve my goals. I would highly suggest students at John Cabot to take advantage of the Career Services Office; they are extremely professional and provide an excellent opportunity to gain work experience to jump-start a future career.
