

In collaboration with the Embassy of the United States of America in Italy

When you are at John Cabot University in Rome this spring,

VOLUNTEER FOR ITALY READS 2014-2015

Your international voyage will help others on theirs!

See what Italy Reads is all about and what volunteers are saying about it!

What is Italy Reads? Italy Reads is John Cabot University's cultural and English language exchange program that began in 2009 with a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts for a Big Read – a community reading program. Now in our 6th year, Italy Reads thrives on the solid foundation of cultural exchange that has been developed over the years. With Harper Lee's To Kill a Mockingbird, Thornton Wilder's Our Town, Carson McCullers' The Heart Is a Lonely Hunter, F. Scott Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby and Jhumpa Lahiri's The Namesake we have discussed (in English) issues related to these meaningful works of American literature that have engaged hundreds of people! JCU works with 40 Italian public high schools in Rome and the nearby community.

This year we are reading Ernest Hemingway's A Farewell to Arms.

What does an Italy Reads volunteer do? Visit Italian high schools (with other volunteers) to discuss the book and interact with these students of English language and literature. Volunteers help Italian high school students create short videos for the Italy Reads Video Contest and provide logistical support for the Rome English Theatre's production of an adaption of the novel. We won't ask much from you (about 6 hours for the semester!) but welcome any more time you would like to give us.

By volunteering, you'll:

- become more integrated into the Italian community,
- have the opportunity to consider a your own country and its history from within an international context,
- experience how foreigners interpret American culture, and
- meet Italians and form friendships that we hope will follow you through your life's travels.

All volunteers who complete the program receive a certificate of recognition from John Cabot University to include on their international resumes.

How do I sign up? Go to our website: www.johncabot.edu and follow About JCU/Italy Reads/Volunteer for Italy Reads and register. Read the novel, take the short on-line training review (it's required!) and, upon completion, you're ready to volunteer. When you arrive in Rome, JCU will host an orientation reception for you and all of the other Italy Read volunteers and guide you from there.

Have any questions? Send an email to italyreads@johncabot.edu

The selected novel for Italy Reads 2014-2015: Ernest Hemingway's A Farewell to Arms.

The official edition of the book is the Vintage Classics Special Edition (ISBN 9780099582564).

Since 2009, over 110 JCU Italy Reads Volunteers from schools across the US engaged in discussions with students of more than 45 Italian and International high schools and over 100 Italian public high school teachers.

Become a part of a growing initiative!

American University
Baylor University
Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo
Carleton College
Champlain College
College of William and Mary
Colorado State University
Cornell University
CSU Long Beach
CUNY Baruch College
Emory University
Grand Valley State University
Hofstra University
John Cabot University
Marquette University
Mercer County Community College
Northeastern University
Notre Dame University
Oregon State University
Pedagogical University
Rider University
Rutgers University
Saint Mary's College of California
Skidmore College
St. Edward's University
St. Norbert College
St. Thomas University
Stockholm University
Suffolk University
SUNY Brockport
Texas Tech University
Towson University
UC Berkeley
University of California Los Angeles
University of Miami
University of Notre Dame
University of San Diego
University of South Carolina
University of Wisconsin Madison
Vanderbilt University
Virginia Commonwealth University
Washington and Lee University
Willamette University