WHAT IS ENLUS?
John Cabot’s English Language for University Studies (ENLUS) Program offers intensive classes in academic English for students whose English level is below the University’s English proficiency admissions requirements.

CONTENT AREAS
Writing
  - Intensive Grammar Review
  - Principles of Sentence Construction
  - Composition Skills
  - Individual Error Analysis
Listening and Speaking
  - Listening Strategies and Note-taking Skills
  - Oral Presentation Skills
  - Basic Language Functions
  - Pronunciation
Reading

ENLUS I (intermediate, B1) meets 4 hours daily, Monday through Thursday, for a total of 208 hours.

Small class sizes allow each student to receive individual attention and the opportunity to participate actively in class. The level also helps introduce foreign students to American culture and university life.

ENLUS II (upper-intermediate, B2) meets 4 ½ hours daily, Monday through Thursday, for a total of 252 hours.

In addition to their ENLUS classes, students may enroll in one academic (for credit) course in the areas of mathematics, computer science, fine arts, or Italian if they satisfy the University’s minimum admissions requirements.
